Last night, Chelsea's Tyler Rollins Fine Art gallery held an opening reception for Ron Agam's exhibition entitled 'In Full Bloom'. The colors lit up the room. Ron, (who was brought up in Paris, Israel, and New York), on the Tyler Rollins site, speaks about treating the flowers as if they were faces, as he had been used to portraits. After over a year of working with the flowers, Agam realized how important they are and decided that he wanted this exhibition to make a statement on saving our environment so that these beautiful majestic flowers can keep blooming.
